IMPORTANT AND TRUE—THE INDEPENDENT RACKET.

It is entirely within the lines of honest politics that a candidate may make an independent race for an office and it is not evidence in itself of any sort of hypocrisy that Judge Holt has so made his canvas for Judge of the Court of Appeals. But his past political characteristics make us look with suspicion upon his so-called INDEPENDENCE (?) and we now predict that the LEARNED JUDGE AT THE LAST MOMENT, DEDILLY, AND IN THE FACE OF HIS VIOLENT PROTESTATIONS OVER THE DISTRICT, THAT THE OFFICE IS NON-POLITICAL AND THAT HE WOULD NOT RUN AS A PARTY CANDIDATE, (assertion we can establish by hundreds of affidavits if denied), WILL PLACE HIS NAME ON THE STRAIGHT REPUBLICAN TICKET. We believed at the start and believe now that the INDEPENDENT ROLE so grandiloquently assumed by him in his Fourth of July speech over the country, was adopted to mislead and deceive the voter; and just as certain as the day of election comes, this distinguished independent's name will be found on the poll book under the picture of the "coon" or the "eagle" whichever device the Republicans may adopt.

Judge James H. Hazelrigg, the nominee of the Democratic party for Appellate Judge from this district, is in every respect a fitting man for the position, to which he aspires. He is still in the prime of life with a vast capacity for work; a man of big brain and wide learning in the law, as well as in general literature; he has long been regarded by a bar that for a knowledge of the law, is a most superior one, as a jurist whose opinions it was safe to follow. As a man he is generous to a fault. His last dollar would be divided with a man in need. Genial and pleasant of address, he makes friends wherever he goes. In every respect he is a true man and one who would be an ornament to the bench. The man who votes for Judge Hazelrigg will cast his vote for a man who will give his decisions on the bench in favor of the people and not in interest of the money sharks.

HOLT AND ASBURY.

STATE OF KENTUCKY, } SCT.
MONTGOMERY CO. }

I, G. A. Whitney, Clerk of the Montgomery County Court, certify that W. H. Holt, now a Judge of the Court of Appeals of Kentucky, on Aug. 6, 1883, in Mt. Sterling, Ky., voted for J. W. Asbury, a negro, for Register of the Land Office, against J. G. Cecil, a white man, which vote is recorded on poll the books on file in my office.

Witness my hand this Aug. 27, 1892.

G. A. WHITNEY, CL'K:
By W. B. O'CONNELL, D. C.
tf

The steamship Moravia arrived at New York Wednesday from Hamburg, and on her voyage over twenty-two deaths occurred from the dread disease, cholera. According to the ship's surgeon it was "cholera," but the New York Health authorities are certain it is cholera, and the Moravia was ordered into quarantine to remain until every precaution possible shall have been taken. Her passengers, who made a vigorous protest, were transferred to Hoffman's Island. President Harrison thought the situation serious enough for him to return to Washington on Thursday, so as to be on hand to aid in any measures that may be found needful for the purpose of excluding cholera from this country.

The Republicans are very anxious to dodge the Force Bill and to convince the people that it is a dead issue notwithstanding the declaration of the platform adopted at the Minneapolis Convention. We do not wonder that they are afraid to openly press the Force Bill. It is so vilely infamous that it smells to heaven, and the people are so thoroughly aroused, to the menace, to liberties of the country, hid in its infamous folds, that even its promoters are afraid to longer openly avow their friendlessness to the measure. The Gazette favors the Force Bill.

Judge Jas. H. Hazelrigg, our candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals, is a man of the people. His sympathies run in the direction of their wants and desires. From the very nature of the man he must be arrayed on the side of the weak as against the strong. Besides his lovable personal character he is a man of great big brain, which God has endowed him with, and which he has stored with a mighty fund of valuable information.

Judge Hazelrigg has entered this race to win and he is going to do it. His opponent has committed himself to the independent idea, he has so often and so publicly asserted that he would not accept a party nomination, that we do not see how he can consistently accept one at the hands of his party. He must go back on all he has said, come out in his true colors, just what he is—a Republican who favors the Robber Tariff, the pension frauds, the centralizing tendencies of his party, the legislation against the workingman and in favor of the capitalist and the devilish Force Bill.

All these Judge Holt favors, whilst Judge Hazelrigg is arrayed on the side of the people, fighting needless extravagance and all attacks on their liberties.

The Republicans, of this county, have placed a ticket in the field, and are flattering themselves, that whilst the Democrats rest most securely in the confidence of a safe majority, they will by a still hunt and the aid of a secret ballot steal a march on us, and slip in one or more of their candidates. When Democrats remember the Robber Tariff with its burdens of unjust taxation, the pension frauds and shameless steals, and especially when they remember that crowning infamy, the iniquitous Force Bill, the bare mention of which is enough to make the blood boil in the veins of a freeman, they will not allow the party to which all these villainies belong to ride into power by their votes. Democrats remember each nomine of the Republican party favors the Force Bill. Their organ, the Gazette, has already had the audacity to tell you it favors the passage of this devilish measure, that would turn the South over into the hands of the negro and the carpet-bagger or plunge us into a race war. Democrats are not likely to vote for men who, to subserve personal ends or party advantage, would advocate such revolutionary measures.

It is necessary, in the face of a threatened epidemic of cholera in this country, that every city and town should adopt the most careful sanitary measures. It can not possibly do any harm for us to strictly enforce all regulations for the proper cleansing of our city. If the cholera comes we will be the better prepared to meet it. If it does not visit us, then the additional expense of cleaning will amply repay us in the way of proper precautions against any epidemics of typhoid fever or diphtheria. Will the proper authorities begin the needed work in time and thus give to us a much-needed protection against an epidemic of any kind?

By a vote of fifty-two to thirty-three the House, at Frankfort, Wednesday declined to pass the Revenue and Taxation bill over the veto of the Governor. Now the House will simply settle down to the framing of a new bill.

Mr. Webb says that Adam and Eve became Democrats after the fall. If Adam turned Democrat, he did so because he had become a workingman and a consumer.—Courier Journal

Killed.

On Sunday evening, while going to Spencer church, riding on a hand-scar with several others, John Sewell lost balance and fell from the car on the track and was run over. He died from the effects of injuries almost instantly. Mr. Sewell had been a regular attendant of the meeting at Spencer and had recently made a public confession.

Mr. Stephenson has a bill which provides that the date for the annual assessment (September 15th) be postponed, so that they may have time to pass a revenue bill conforming to the requirements of the Constitution, and if possible, to the suggestions of the Governor.

A new revenue bill has been framed intended as a compromise. The section on Auditor's agents is changed, making the agents to collect the back tax apportioned by the County Courts, and their fees come out of the public confession.

An effort will shortly be made to have the Courts pass upon the constitutionality of the World's Fair bill, which the Governor signed, though now thinks did not receive the requisite constitutional majority. The Governor's position is in conflict with the standard text writers on constitutional construction, and an unbroken line of decisions. The opinion of Gov. Knott (in pamphlet form) on the constitutionality of the bill vetoed by Gov. Brown is entitled to great weight, by reason of its intrinsic merit and convincing conclusions of law, as well as for the national reputation of Gov. Knott as a constitutional lawyer, statesman and constitutional.

HOW TO MAKE MONEY.
Good Suggestions From a Well Informed Authority.

It pays to advertise. No sane person need be told that fact. The only remaining question is how to do it best. There is but a very slight division of opinion upon that subject so far as ordinary business enterprises go. The successful merchant or manufacturer depends upon the newspapers almost if not quite entirely, and he finds that money invested in that manner brings inevitably large returns. Naturally the heaviest of all advertisements are circus proprietors. One but needs to look at the advertising now being done by the Adam Forepaugh Shows. Just stop to consider for a moment that all that enormous amount of advertising, in the newspapers and upon the streets and the railroads, is done to get one day's business. No other business concern in America does so much advertising and it follows as certain as does the setting of the Sun in the West and its rising in the East, that no other concern does so much business—profit considered. In a conversation had in this office recently with Mr. R. C. Campbell, General Agent of the Adam Forepaugh Shows, he has charge of all their advertising, he said: "The newspapers are indisputably the best medium for advertising and were it not for the fact that we want to reach all classes—including the very few who do not read newspapers regularly we would probably not use any other medium, except for one purpose and that is this: Words will not nor can they convey and adequately idea of the splendors of the spectacle, the Fall of Ninety. Now our lithographic posters and window blinds are exact copies—photographic reproductions—of the scenes and their coloring and action. So you see they are not more imaginative and exaggerated pictures, such as have been used, and in fact are now by other shows. It would be impossible to reproduce all the colors and the details of the scenes in a newspaper than is plain black ink on white paper and we are obliged to resort to posters to the extraordinary extent we do on that account. Still, the newspaper is the best of mediums. It can tell its readers just what they will see because they can learn from their newspaper exchanges just what the shows are in other cities before they come, and as the shows never under any circumstances divide or curtail their performances, the newspapers know and can tell their readers the plain truth. That is just what we like to have them do, as the papers are all with us and say what is no more than the plain truth that they really are the largest and best shows that any other country has ever seen. Just see them when they are here on Tuesday, October 11th, and you are bound to join your contemporaries. And it ought to be some satisfaction for you to know that the biggest and best shows owe their magnitude, their success and their prosperity to printers' ink and they still depend upon it to continue in the same work of doing."

"A marvel of processional pageantry" is what the newspapers call the street parade given by the Adam Forepaugh Shows and it costs nobody a penny to see it. They will exhibit here on Tuesday, October 11th.

A number of complaints have reached us from citizens residing on Sycamore street of the existence of a terrible nuisance in the neighborhood in the shape of a hog pen, from which proceed an almost overpowering stench. It is said to be so strong as to penetrate walls in the near-by-tenements. Cannot the authorities be prevailed upon to order this abominable nuisance abated? There is certainly no good reason why it should be permitted to exist, endangering as it does, the general health of the community.

W. O. Brook sold to John Embry 45 cattle to go in September and which will weigh from 1,550 to 1,600 lbs. at 4t. He also sold 10 lighter ones at $3.00 each. The cattle were bought last year at $3.43 per hundredweight, weight 1,160 lbs. It will thus be seen that Mr. Brook made good money on them. . . . Z. E. Bush, auctioneer, reports the sale Saturday of Owen T. Johnson's, a negro, of Oliver Creek, Madison county, as fairly attained, but stock sold low. Common horses brought $25 to $56; 14 common two-year-old mules, $4 per head; yoke of oxen, $96; yearling mules, $56; ten common sheep, $2.50 each; corn in bushels, $1.40; bushel of 149 acres of land worth $10.25 per acre.—[Wichita Free Democrat.]

SHIRLEY.—Fred Allen, son of Dr. J. A. and Laura Shirley, was born July 30th, 1880, and died August 31st, 1892, was twelve years and one month old. His death was sudden and unexpected to all. He had a slight attack of hay fever for several days. On Saturday he complained of pains in head and neck and gradually grew worse until Wednesday at 1 o'clock when death relieved him of all pain. Tender and loving hands and well applied medical skill had done all they could and nature had given way. Through the dark clouds of suffering the storm of grief came to the dying hope of loving parents. The light of consolation and the gentle voice of love saying in the language of Him who said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me," so little Fred was relieved of pain and was given the rest of the redeemed. While sorrow presses the hearts of loving ones hope may cheer them and they may be consoled, for they know little Fred is in the Kingdom of Heaven and that he is joined by his two little brothers, Bruce and Bush, who preceded him a few years ago. They can say that he has gone, but not lost—a treasure removed. Oh how sad it was to witness the father, mother and his two little sisters leaning over the dying form of their loved boy and listening to his last sweet words of comfort. Just before he departed this life he asked his father if he could get well again. The poor broken-hearted father had to tell him that he could not. Well, said he, do not weep for me. Whilst I would like to get well and be with you, I am not afraid to die, and want to meet you all in Heaven. I will wait and watch for you at the beautiful gates. He also told his father that he wanted him to keep his dues paid upon his Building and Loan stock and give it to his two little sisters. Also to take care of his gun and dogs and to bury him by the side of his two little brothers in the cemetery at Mt. Sterling. Little Fred was the best boy we ever saw—was loved by all who ever knew him. He never told a lie in his life and was universally beloved by everybody. Fred was a regular attendant at Sunday school, he had taught his little three-year-old sister, Florence, a number of Sunday-school songs, and while life was passing away she sang through, "God be with you till we meet again." May God sustain and comfort the hearts of parents in this dark hour of great trial.

Our school commences this week with Miss Mary Clay as teacher. We know the people wish to see their school succeed, but how can they unless they have the necessary books. Just as well try to run a wagon without wheels as to try to run a school without books.

DEATHS.

On last Thursday, at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Reason, near Spencer, aged 24 years, Mrs. Reason. Funeral services were held at the house. He was a good citizen and a plious, christian gentleman.

On last Wednesday, at his father's home, near Grassy Lick, of cerebral spinal meningitis, Fred Allen, the only son of Dr. J. A. Shirley and wife, aged 12 years. Funeral was preached in the Christian church by Rev. H. D. Clark, after which he was buried in Macphail cemetery. Two brothers had preceded him. These sorrow stricken parents have the deepest sympathy of innumerable friends. Though the child's body rests in the grave, he is not dead. Your hopes of an earthly career have been crushed, but his deeds, though of a child, will live on, a part of your life, and the love will continue as long as you live. You will cherish his sweet life and will thank God that he was given to you. Another thought is this: the Lord had use for the little fellow on earth; that purpose had been accomplished. You have been happier, and this bereavement, so inexplicable, is also for a purpose. God has a purpose in all things, and he is too wise to make any mistakes. Love the Master the more, follow and labor according to the direction of the Spirit, and a little while you will be with your loved ones.
